

Goodheart-Willcox Publisher

Correlations to the Alabama Career Cluster Curriculum

Career and Technical Education - Comprehensive
Course: Introduction to Television Production
Grades 9-12

*Video Digital Communication & Production © 2008
ISBN 978-1-59070-767-8*

GOODHEART-WILLCOX PUBLISHER
CORRELATION TO THE ALABAMA CAREER CLUSTER
CURRICULUM

Career and Technical Education - Comprehensive
Course – Introduction to Television Production
Grades 9-12

TITLE: Video: Digital Communication and Production © 2008

CONTENT STANDARD	CORRELATING PAGE NUMBERS
History of Television
Students will:
Explain the growth of communication, including telegraph, wireless, early radio and television, electronic and satellite news gathering technology, and Internet broadcasting.	12
Describing the development of networks, cable, and satellite television and their impact on broadcasting	435–436
Describing the impact television has on society and politics	132–136
Assessing recent technological developments in television production	13–14
Predicting the future of telecommunications	13, 468, 486–487
Safety
Identify safety hazards associated with television production.	241
Practicing precautions while using electrical equipment in television production	237–238, 241, 261, 265
Demonstrating care for television production gear and tapes in various weather situations	20–25
Utilizing proper care for television lamps and bulbs	237–238
Identifying live television remote location safety procedures	168–172
Organizing and manipulating digital files safely in television production	449–462
Basic Camera Operation

Demonstrate video camera setup, movement, and operation.	185–197
Utilize proper handling, care, and storage techniques of camera, tripod, and accessories.	172–173, 198
Sound
Critique audio quality for television production.	298–299
Recognizing audio production components, including microphones, natural sound, voice and audio track, sound-on-tape, sound bites, audio level, interruptible foldback (IFB), and earpiece	299–311
Using audio equipment correctly	312–317
Lighting
Demonstrate studio and field lighting for television, including back, key, fill, and natural light, and three-point lighting and camera lighting functions.	270–294
Examples: camera lighting functions—white balance and black balance, filters	270, 271, 273, 278, 280, 281, 286, 290, 293
Performance
Demonstrate appropriate on-camera performance, including clear speech, diction, eye contact, gestures, posture, and appearance.	328–334
Interviewing
Assess the quality of television interviews and sound bites, including length and content.	157–159
Utilizing standard television interview questions	335–336
Examples: Who, what, where, when, why, how
Describing pre-interviewing techniques for television	334–336
Examples: Brainstorming, researching
Evaluating television interview footage	378–380

Writing
Demonstrate effective television script writing format.	145–156
Examples: News, audio and video, screenplay, storyboard	146 ,149 ,153
Identifying television conversational writing style, including simple word usage, short sentence structure, “say it, see it” theory, present tense form, active and passive voice, and objective and subjective point of view.	151
Prioritizing information for television production	140–144
Editing
Use applicable editing techniques for television production, including transitions, in-and-out points, trimming, and video sequencing.	380–386, 392–403
Defining basic terms associated with television editing	388, 416, 442–443, 464
Examples: Edit-in-camera, assemble edit, insert edit, jump cuts, linear, nonlinear, flash frames, control track	94–100, 449–462, 484–494
Commercials
Create a commercial using basic television production skills.	135, 140–144
Utilizing basic television advertising terms and techniques, including purpose, process, and persuasive devices	140–150, 162
Examples: Revenue, market research, target audience, ratings, humor, testimonial, bandwagon	140, 142, 147, 149
Public Service Announcements
Create a public service announcement using basic television production skills.
Explaining the purpose of a television public service announcement

Examples: Informing, changing opinion, promoting a cause	134–135
News
Create a news story using basic television production skills.	133, 140–144, 155–161
Recognizing common television news terms, including story types and career positions	162, 164–166, 180
Determining format, fact selection, teases, and lead sentences in television prerecorded and live news story organization	140–144, 155–161