

Safety Notice

December 11, 2009

Dear Valued Customer:

Goodheart-Willcox is committed to providing you with the best products for career and technical education. All elements of our products from content and illustrations, to the paper, printing and binding are published at the highest quality possible.

Goodheart-Willcox has identified a potential safety issue in our text Guide to Good Food student and teacher editions, copyrights 2004, 2006, 2008, and 2010. Specifically, a boxed feature on page 126 refers to flour as an agent that can retard flames. This statement is not correct and is being corrected immediately in all available Goodheart-Willcox inventories of these items. The following ISBNs for the title are affected:
